

I was the lucky bidder for a Kuban (Western) tur hunt at the 2011 GSCO convention, which was a donation from ProfiHunt. Since the trip was going to be a long haul, I upgraded to hunt the mid-Caucasian tur too. Unfortunately for us, an early season heavy snowfall preceded us into camp and restricted our mobility. We couldn't use horses to get into the back basins, and there were hundreds around camp. While changing camp and areas, we had no choice but to wait for improved weather and in the process joined a group of local hunters at their hunting camp. Between great celebrations of our rights to hunt and the international camaraderie that we shared because we are hunters, we hunted Russian wild boar, Russian roe deer and jackal. Great trophies and even greater memories of hunting with new friends

Archie Nesbitt (AB) took this Kuban (Western) tur from Russia in 2011. Archie was hunting with ProfiHunt.

more than halfway around the world...and all because of GSCO!
