

Joe Crawley (MO) got this Caucasian chamois in the Caucasus Mts. of Russia in September 2006. Joe was hunting with Profi-Hunt.

In September I was back in Russia to hunt with Profi-Hunt again. We were hunting Kuban (Western) tur and Caucasian chamois. The weather was absolutely terrible. Out of 10 days, we only hunted two days due to rain and fog. On the fifth day I shot my chamois and on the last day of the hunt I shot the tur. From there we traveled to Kyrgyzstan to hunt Mid-Asian ibex. The ibex was shot on the third day of the hunt, fortunately for me, because I then became very ill from either the water or food poisoning. I was in bed and did not eat any food for eight days and was not able to drink any water for six days. I lost 12 pounds on the hunt. Again this hunt was through Profi-Hunt.

On November 22, I traveled to Turkey to hunt bezoar ibex. The hunt was booked with Caprinae Safaris. This was a 7-day hunt. We saw many

This Mid-Asian ibex was taken by Joe Crawley (MO) in Kyrgyzstan, October 2006. This hunt was booked through Profi-Hunt.
